Rent

How your rent is calculated

Affordable housing tenants receive a discount on the normal market rent that would be usually charged for the property. We are required to charge no more than 75% of the current market rent for your home.

The market rent for each property is reviewed by Momentum each year. This rent then stays the same until the time of the next review.

Tenants are not required to inform us of any changes in their income until they are asked to provide that information each year (see Annual Eligibility Reviews section below).

Rent payment

Your residential tenancies agreement will include our bank details and will also provide you with a unique reference number for your rental payments.

Rent must always be paid 2 weeks in advance.

If you are having difficulties paying your rent, please advise us immediately to discuss your situation. If you fall behind in your rent by more than two weeks, then a Notice of Termination may be issued due to rent arrears which may result in further action through the NSW Civil and Administrative Tribunal (NCAT).

Electricity

The arrangements for connecting and paying for electricity can vary from property-to-property. Your Tenancy Officer will provide you with information about the requirements for your property.

Water usage

You will also need to pay for your water usage. This is assessed according to the Residential Tenancies Act 2010, Clause 139 as a social housing provider.

Your rental bond

Momentum Collective's Community Housing Service requires new tenants to pay a bond at the time they sign their agreement with us.

The rental bond is equivalent to four weeks rent and is lodged by you using the Rental Bonds Online facility with the NSW Department of Fair Trading.

At the end of your tenancy, Momentum Collective may claim any of the bond if there is rent owing, cleaning charges or damage to the property requiring repairs.

Property Condition Report

The Property Condition Report is for your protection and is part of the tenancy agreement and should be completed carefully and returned within 7 days after the signing of the agreement.

You are responsible for taking care of the property and leaving it in a similar condition to when you rented it. You will be held responsible for any damage, cleaning or lawn mowing costs at the end of the tenancy, if you cannot prove it was like that when you moved in.

Annual eligibility reviews

The income of affordable housing must continue to be within the ongoing income eligibility limits for affordable housing (see table next page). To ensure this, Momentum conduct an annual eligibility review for all affordable housing tenants. We do this not less than 3 months before the end of each tenant's agreement.

We compare the income you have received in the previous 12 month period with the latest eligibility limits set by the NSW Affordable Housing Guidelines. These limits are updated every year.

Where a tenant is still eligible, a new lease is signed with the tenant for a further 12 months.

Affordable Housing Ongoing Income Eligibility Limits for 2021-22

Ongoing eligibility limit: $76,125 for a single adult plus:

- $38,125 for each additional adult
- $22,875 for each child (under the age of 18)

NSW Affordable Housing Guidelines 2021-22

No longer eligible

If our annual review has determined that you are no longer eligible, the lease will not be renewed. Tenants will need to locate their own alternative housing, either in the private rental market or through home ownership.

However you will be provided with a minimum of 6 months' notice to leave the property.

The law also provides you with the chance to appeal any decision we make about your eligibility.

In some circumstances, Momentum can provide a further extension to the notice period.

Your feedback

Momentum Collective encourages tenants to provide feedback about any area of our service. We try to maintain a very high standard of service to you and we appreciate our tenants letting us know if we have not met that standard.

Please contact our local office and speak to one of our team members if you have an idea for further improvement.

We also conduct regular tenant satisfaction surveys and our staff will be visiting you in your home regularly to complete property inspections. These are also good opportunities provide feedback

We will keep you up-to-date with any changes at Momentum, of other important news through our quarterly newsletter.

Your privacy

Your privacy is important to us. Momentum Collective staff and management are not allowed to discuss your tenancy with anyone outside of the office, unless they have your permission. Sometimes we can be required by law to provide information about our tenants e.g. Centrelink, Police or Courts.

If you want us to discuss your tenancy with someone else then you need to be present during the discussion; or you need to complete and sign a Disclosure Consent Form (available from our offices) that gives approval for Momentum Collective to do this.

Complaints, reviews and appeals

You have every right to request a review of a decision that you believe is unfair or to make a complaint.

Most issues can be resolved quickly by contacting one of our housing team members to discuss your concern directly. However, we realise that this is not always appropriate and so Momentum Collective has a range of ways in place for you to have your concern dealt with more formally.

Absence from the property

You will require written approval from us if you planning to be away from your home for more than 4 weeks.

Visitors and relatives

Visitors and relatives are welcome to stay with you from time to time, but Momentum Collective must approve any additional occupants. The number of occupants will have on your annual income eligibility assessments.

Pets

Momentum Collective has a NO PET policy with the exception of those covered by the Companion Animal Act. In certain properties, special consideration may be given in situations where this policy may cause undue hardship or where the pet is an "assistive animal"

Ending your tenancy

The law requires that you provide written notice prior to moving out of your property. You will need to pay rent until you return the keys. A joint inspection between you and your Tenancy Officer is conducted when vacating to ensure the property is left in a clean and undamaged condition.

Domestic and family violence

There are options available to improve your safety if you feel you need to leave in order to escape violence in the home. The law also provides you with certain protections if you experience domestic and family violence.

Ending a tenancy

If you or a dependent child are in circumstances of domestic violence, you can end your tenancy immediately without being penalised. You will need to give a domestic violence termination notice to Momentum.

Staying in the property (agreements)

Below are some steps you can take to improve your safety if you decide to stay in the rented property.

- Removing a perpetrator of domestic violence. If a final Apprehended Violence Order (AVO) is granted that excludes a co-tenant (perpetrator) from accessing the property, then the perpetrator's co-tenancy will automatically end. The tenancy simply transfers to any remaining co-tenant(s) named on the agreement. A remaining occupant who is not named on the agreement can ask the landlord or agent to have the agreement put in their name.

- Changing locks or other security devices. Changing the locks or other security devices immediately can increase the safety of a tenant from domestic violence.

Property damage

If you are experiencing domestic violence, you cannot be held not responsible for any damage caused by a domestic violence perpetrator (whether or not the perpetrator is a tenant) during a domestic violence offence.

A co-tenant who is not the domestic violence perpetrator does not have to pay for this type of damage.

Getting assistance

If you are experiencing domestic and family violence, you can get help. We have included the contact details for some services in the final page of this Handbook.

We also encourage you to speak to one of Housing team members about how we can help you further.

Complaints from neighbours

Tenants have a right to the peaceful enjoyment of their home and an obligation to abide by the conditions of their tenancy agreement. They have a right to complain about individuals who deny them this right.

In order for Momentum Collective to best respond to complaints about your neighbours, please keep written evidence of all incidents over a period of time. Incident report forms are available from our office.

The information you gather will only be used if we pursue this matter further and only with your permission at the time.

Nuisance, annoyance, anti-social behaviour, or illegal activity which disturbs your neighbours will not be tolerated.

How will Momentum Collective respond to a complaint about a neighbour?

Firstly, we will check that you have notified the police. This must always be your first point of call with all Noise, Nuisance, Anti-Social Behaviour or Illegal Activity complaints. Momentum Collective will address complaints of this nature by:

Step 1:

- Obtaining incident report/s from neighbours, with Police Event Numbers if available.
Note: Momentum Collective has a Record of Understanding (ROU) with NSW Police, permitting us to make enquiries about activities at our properties.
- Investigate reported incident/s by contacting other neighbours and/or police.
- Arrange a meeting between the tenant, Momentum Collective Tenancy Officer and any support agency (where relevant), if that will be useful to help avoid further complaints.

- Write to the tenant/s who we have received the complaints about, detailing the nature of the complaint and the breach. The tenant/s then has the opportunity to discuss the matter with Momentum Collective within 14 days of receiving this letter.

Step 2:

If no further complaints are received, the matter will be closed.

If further complaints are received, Momentum Collective can issue a Notice of Termination for breach of the Residential Tenancy Agreement and further action may be taken through the NSW Civil and Administrative Tribunal (NCAT).

What happens if the matter goes to the NCAT?

The action Momentum Collective takes through the NCAT will depend on the nature and the severity of the complaint.

If the complaints are not of a severe nature, Momentum Collective may request the NCAT to put in place a "Specific Performance Order" states the tenant/s must stop this behaviour at the first NCAT hearing. If further complaints are received, Momentum Collective will pursue the matter through the NCAT at which time we may ask for termination of the Residential Tenancy Agreement and vacant possession of the premises.

If the complaints were of a serious nature, Momentum Collective would take the matter to the NCAT and may ask for termination of the Residential Tenancy Agreement and vacant possession of the premises immediately.

For Momentum Collective to pursue Noise, Nuisance, Anti-Social Behaviour, Illegal Activity or other complaints action through the NCAT, it is most important that we have well documented written accounts of the incidents from eye witnesses, complainants and include police incident reports and event numbers.

Please refer to the Residential Tenancies Agreement for further information about your rights and responsibilities in relation to your neighbours.

Smoke Alarms

If there is a fire, call 000

In NSW, all home and units are required by law to have smoke alarms.

Smoke alarms help to protect your life and your property. Smoke alarms are early warning systems which detect smoke and fires and sound a warning alarm and they provide additional security and safety in your home. Most fatalities in house fires are caused by breathing in smoke and toxic fumes, which can overcome you, particularly if you are asleep.

In our properties, smoke alarms are connected to the wiring system of the house or unit. The alarms are usually mounted in a high position and may be located in the living room, hallway, or in the bedrooms.

Under the Residential Tenancies Act, Momentum Collective is responsible for the installation of smoke alarms in rented premises.

You will notice two different lights on your smoke alarms

- a steady green light indicates that the alarm is being powered
- a red light flashes once a minute to indicate that the alarm is working

What should I do if the alarm goes off?

If you are woken by a smoke alarm, wake everyone and leave the house immediately. Once outside, phone 000 and report the fire. Alarms can sometimes go off from smoke or steam (such as burning toast or showers). You should make sure there is ventilation when cooking in a small area, or when smoking.

If the alarm sounds because of these activities, you can turn it off by pressing the hush button or fanning away the smoke or steam. If the power is turned off, you will hear a short beep every few seconds. When the power is first connected to the alarm, it may sound for two to three seconds and continue to beep once every 40 seconds for around 10 minutes. This is normal.

If a smoke alarm sounds regularly for no clear reason, or you think it is not working properly phone Momentum Collective Community Housing offices on 1300 900 091.

How do I look after my smoke alarm?

It is against the law to remove or interfere with the operation of a smoke alarm. If you interfere or remove a smoke alarm and an electrician has to be called out, you will incur a cost. This is tenant damage.

Momentum Collective will arrange to inspect and check your smoke alarm annually. You can also test it yourself once a month using the test button. Simply press the test button gently and hold for five seconds. Do not test the alarm with a flame.

Carefully vacuum the smoke alarm several times a year to remove dust, cobwebs, or insects.

Do not attempt to open the alarm as it is connected to the main power supply of the house and could give you an electric shock. The standby battery in the alarm will last for 5-10 years and does not fit into any other electrical appliance.

Insects may be attracted to smoke alarms and can sound the alarm. If this occurs, spray the ceiling around the alarm, with insect surface spray. Never spray the alarm directly.

Trouble shooting around your home

Appliance Power

All new units are equipped with isolation switches that control electricity to your fridge power point and oven. If these appliances are not operating then Please check your kitchen area to find the isolation switches. Generally these switches are similar to the picture below.

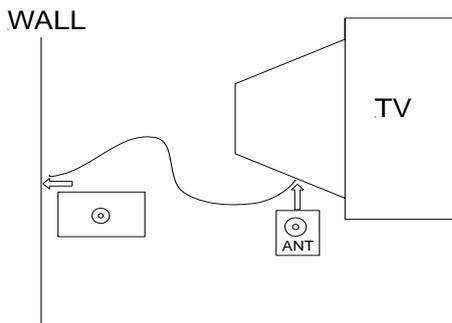

The middle switch is the isolator which needs to be turned on.

TV Antenna

All new units are connected to a central TV antenna system with the wall connection general found within the general lounge/living area. Refer to the picture below for connection.

The connecting cable is called a co-axial cable.

Telephone

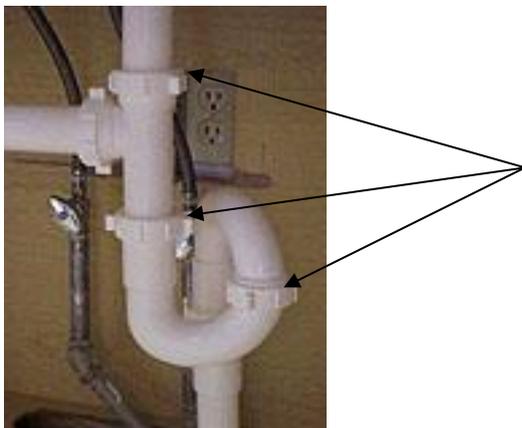

All new units have telephone numbers already established; this has been done to assist you with hassle free reconnection of the service. Advise Telstra or your preferred carrier that the line has been established, this ensures that you don't have to pay their establishment fees.

Please contact your Tenancy Officer for further information if needed.

Leaks in kitchen sinks or laundry troughs

When first settling in to your new unit /home (if possible) check if you have any leaks under these units. If it is coming from the water connections, contact us immediately.

If it is from the drain (plastic pipe) you may be able to tighten the ribbed collar to stop this leak (do not over tighten these collars). If you are not able to do this, contact us immediately as water can damage the timber of the kitchen units.

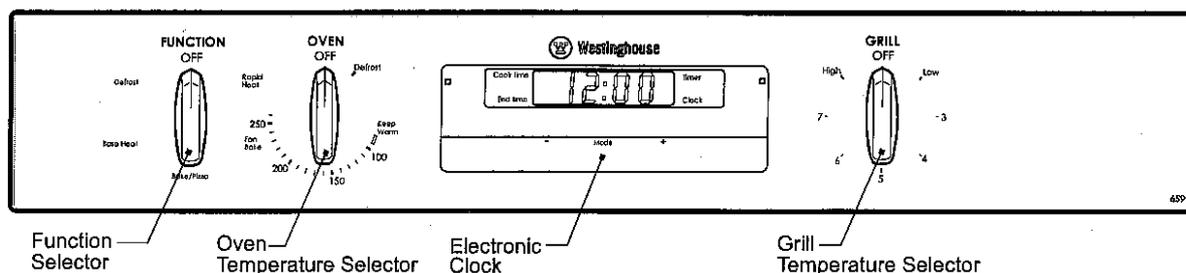

Oven and cook top

Please read your instruction manuals concerning the use of these appliances.

Before you start you need to make sure you turn on the large switch usually located on the tiles behind the bench top. (This is an isolation switch which turns off all power to the oven and cook top in an emergency.)

With modern electric oven, you will need to set the timer prior to turning on all other controls on the oven.

If you still cannot get the appliances to work then report it as soon as possible, so it can be fixed.

Toilets

Modern toilets use very little water and if objects such as baby wipes and large amounts of toilet paper are flushed down toilets they will cause blockages in drains.

Do not flush anything other than toilet paper down the toilet.
